

We will not be duplicating services already on the spectrum of prolife support for the unborn.

1) We will connect the young women to Life Care Centers for ultrasounds, STD testing and other services.

2) We will use adoption agencies for our clients interested in exploring this option.

3) Our mentoring couples will help arrange counseling services for the young woman and the father of the baby, if appropriate. We will use the tools from the Marriage Prep programs offered by local churches. This includes an inventory computer assessment that identifies areas of strength and areas of growth in the couple's relationship.

MARRIAGE MATERIAL

Our Mission Statement

To provide a continuum of support so young women in crisis pregnancies can be filled with the hope necessary to turn away from abortion and enter into a marriage, God willing.

We are expanding the programs at the beginning and end of the prolife outreach spectrum.

The Outreach

Most young women begin the process of searching for an abortion on the internet. We are expanding the pro-life outreach on the internet with a website called Abortion Advice. When young women type Abortion, they have the option of clicking on our Abortion Advice website instead of Planned Parenthood's website.

We then go out to her, imitating how Jesus sent out His disciples 2 by 2, and though we are being "wise as serpents" with our website, when we meet up we are "harmless as doves." Matt. 10:16

“What would it take for you not to go through with this abortion?”

The Hope

At the end of the process, after a mentor has guided this young women through all the support services that are offered by the pro-life community, we will explore the possibility of helping her enter into marriage. God is the author of marriage and one must be called by Him to this vocation. This help is offered at the end, because no one has the free will to enter into marriage during a crisis. We will navigate and explore the possibility of marriage as we would navigate a narrow ridge, not falling off to the right or to the left.
